We provide a safe, non-threatening atmosphere where kids can learn and achieve success.

Kids develop new skills and enhance self-confidence.

Participation with a focus on skill development through co-operative and lead-up games.

Through many years of teaching and coaching children within the education system, we became aware of the need for a sports program that suited all children. We know that each child is unique. This program was designed to benefit all children despite their varying levels of physical ability and self-confidence. We believe all children with positive encouragement can develop the skills and desire to live an active lifestyle. Addicted to Sports was developed with that belief in mind.

Building Confidence is key.

We teach skills enthusiastically because we feel that when children complete new skills with competence, they develop a love for learning. A child who is successful will never forget how much fun it was to try something new and succeed.

Health Risks associated with a sedentary lifestyle.

Obesity is a growing concern for our children today. A sedentary lifestyle can affect a child's emotional & physical health. Sport has a fundamental role in alleviating these problems as they develop and grow. We believe that sport has far wider-reaching benefits (e.g., teamwork & sportsmanship). We promote participation to help children build self-esteem and competence & achieve personal bests through team play.

" I've noticed an increase in my child's confidence since he started this program... "

" She has always been very athletic but her skills have become more developed "

" The friendships made have been worth it alone... "

Good to know...

Beginning in 2007, The Government of Canada allows parents to deduct costs incurred to register a child (under the age of 16) in an eligible program of physical activity. Enrolling your child in the Addicted To Sports Inc. program qualifies for this deduction and therefore, you are able to claim a maximum of $500 per year per child as a non-refundable tax credit when preparing your tax return. We will provide you with a receipt to use for your taxes.
